ANOTHER FIELD DAY.

SENATOR M'DONALD'S BILL RAISES A STORM.

Several Senators Announce their Intention to Speak on the Introduction of the Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—SENATE.—Senator McDonald asked leave to introduce the bill regulating the use of the army, of which he gave notice Tuesday. Senator Edmunds asked whether the bill was intended to enlarge or diminish the existing constitutional powers of the Executive in the use of the army. Senator McDonald said it properly regulated the President's powers under the Constitution; the bill would show for itself whether it enlarged or restricted those powers. Senator Edmunds wished to know if, in Senator McDonald's opinion, its effect was to repeal or only define existing laws, and if he thought any legislation on the subject necessary. Senator McDonald said the first sections under the title "Insurrection," as they appear in the revised statutes, were in his mind in offering the bill. He desired to give his views at length on Monday. Senator Edmunds thought no such legislation necessary. It did not lead to the abatement of any fault in existing laws, but he would not object to the bill's introduction. The bill was received and laid on the table, and Senator McDonald gave notice that he would call it up Monday and speak thereon. Senator Wallace gave notice that he intended to speak on the same subject after the Senator from Indiana. Senator Edmunds gave notice that he would speak on the same subject when he could get the floor—under the rules. (Laughter.) The Senate then took up the bill to prevent the introduction and spread of contagious and infectious diseases.

Senator Harris stated that the present bill looked to the maintenance of the existing State health laws where they are efficient, and to co-operation therewith of the national board as far as possible. He also said the appropriation had been reduced from six hundred and fifty thousand to five hundred thousand on account of the removal of the direction to the board to investigate the diseases of cattle. Senator Eaton thought that the appropriation was too large and that $100,000 would be ample. Senator Harris replied that the five hundred thousand was as little as the provisions of the bill could be carried out with. Senator Eaton said he wished to vote for the bill, and hoped the appropriation would be reduced to two hundred and fifty thousand. He thought this sum too large but would yield something to the opinion of others. Senator Logan moved to amend, so that the money appropriated should be disbursed under the direction of the secretary of the Treasury upon quarterly estimates of the national board, accompanied by the statements of its operations and expenditures under the act adopted.

After some further discussion Senator Eaton's amendment to reduce the appropriations to $250,000 was rejected.

Senator Conkling, in a speech of some length, then pointed out what he considered the faults in the bill. Among the objections to it were, he said, first, that it makes offenses against the State laws punishable in the Federal courts; second, that such offenses are left also in the jurisdiction of the State courts, so that a man may be twice punished for the same offense; third, that the fine imposed falls not upon the real offender, but upon the innocent owners of the vessel. He said he should not vote for the bill because he believed the subject did not belong to national but to local legislation.

Senator Harris replied that experience had proved local legislation to be insufficient.

After further remarks by Senator Conkling, Senator Edmunds, who wished to examine the bill further, moved that the Senate adjourn until to-morrow.

HOUSE.—Mr. Goode, of Virginia, introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to place vessels and hulks at the disposal of the commissioners of quarantine or other proper persons at ports of the United States. Referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

The House (at 12:30) resumed as business of the morning hour the bill to repeal and amend the laws relating to the transfer of cases from State to Federal Courts. The Republicans refused to vote on the demand for the previous question, thereby blocking business. Various propositions were thereupon suggested on both sides of the House, but were not acceded to. Finally as all efforts at a compromise failed, and as the Republicans declined to vote, a call of the House was proceeded with.

After the expiration of the morning hour the silver bill came up. The House agreed to the committee amendment of the eighth section which provides that certificates of deposit shall be in denominations not less than $5 instead of $10 as originally provided. The next committee amendment provided that certificates of deposit may be computed as part of the lawful money reserve of national banks. It was then agreed to allow debate on the eighth section in which many members participated.

Mr. Chittenden said, "If I borrow a good horse from the member from Illinois (Springer) and offer him a bad mule in return, he will say I am a damned scoundrel (shouts of laughter), and so I say the Government of the United States is a damned scoundrel if it pays me in depreciated silver the interest on the bonds which I hold as executor for a widow." The amendment was rejected without division.

Mr. Warner offered an amendment that gold or silver bullion which shall become the property of the Government by the return of certificates to the treasury in payment of dues shall be coined and paid out. Adopted. An amendment to strike out the whole section was negatived. Several other minor amendments were offered, but without making any further material progress a motion to adjourn at 5 o'clock prevailed.

The Cotton Caterpillar.

SELMA, Ala., May 22.—The cotton caterpillar has appeared at two different points in Dallas county—the earliest ever known.

Serious Accident on Shipboard.

LONDON, May 22.—Lloyds has received intelligence of an accident aboard the transport steamer China (belonging to the Cunard line) in Simon's Bay on the 29th of April. In heaving up anchor two men were killed and nineteen injured.

Quite Definite.

LONDON, May 22.—The Times' correspondent at Berlin says the vote yesterday for president of the Reichstag must be taken as an indication of the future course of the Reichstag for a period which it would be rash to set the limits to.

The Results of a Strike.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, May 22.—After considerable difficulty the obstinate section of the striking coal miners have been induced to accept the award of wages made by the judge of Durham county court last week, and all pits in the Durham miners' union will be working to-day. The coal owners in Germany have taken advantage of the miners' strike here to push German coals into all the Baltic ports, and it is feared that a considerable portion of the ordinary summer trade in coals from Tyne may have been forestalled.

THE RIGHTS OF THE CONQUEROR.

Suits Brought by the United States against the Insurgent Government of Virginia.

RICHMOND, May 22.—What are known as the "Gold cases" were taken up for trial here to-day in the United States Circuit Court before Judge R. W. Hughes. These cases embrace about a dozen suits on the part of the United States Government against the ex-State officials who were in authority at the time of the evacuation of Richmond, for amounts ranging from one thousand to five thousand dollars, and aggregating about $20,000. It is claimed that the insurgent government of Virginia had in the Treasury on the 2d of April, 1865, a quantity of gold and silver, with which the officers of that government paid themselves and their soldiers in advance; Governor William Smith taking $5,000, most of it in advance. By the public law the conqueror is entitled to the property of the conquered, and to rights of action of the conquered power due from its debtors. The United States Government brings suit as the conquering power against these officers, but does not claim anything that belongs to the State of Virginia as a State. The United States Government only claims what belonged to the insurgent government of Virgina, overthrown by its armies in April, 1865. This specie belonged to the insurgent government of Virginia; as such, the officers of that government as such, took this money, and the United States Government sues them as debtors of the insurgent government overthrown by the Union.

The case against ex-Gov. Wm. Smith was first put upon trial. The Government put in all the proof deemed necessary to establish its allegations. The ex-Governor, now nearly 80 years old, was then put upon the stand. He made an elaborate statement to the jury, reciting in a very interesting manner the history of his actions, doings and wanderings as Governor, for the weeks succeeding the capture of Richmond until his surrender to Gen. Patrick, provost marshal of Richmond. His story was amusingly told, and at times the judge, jury, lawyers and audience were convulsed with laughter. Without getting throughwith ex-Governor Smith's testimony, the trial went over till to-morrow.

Chatham High School Commencement.

Correspondence of the News.

SALISBURY, May 21.—On Tuesday, the 20th instant, the little town of Newton, was thronged with visitors from different parts of the State to witness the closing exercises of the Chatham High School. At 2 o'clock the crowd assembled at the church to hear the Literary address. The services were opened with prayer by the Rev. G. A. Anderson, after which Mr. J. F. Murrell, of Hickory, introduced the orator of the day, Hon. R. P. Dick, of Greensboro. His address was one that is certainly worthy to be carefully studied, as he sowed to the students that their life was one that required all the enlightenment that could be obtained; therefore he would take as his subject, "The Bible as an Educator." He showed in a very forcible manner that it was the Book, the study of which would elevate man to the pinnacle of fame. Also, that from the study of this "old, old story" all mankind owed their independence; it was the bottom of all just government; from it we framed all our laws. The gentleman is a fine speaker, and greatly pleased his large audience, and the school feel highly complimented with their selection, believing that the address could not be excelled by any orator of the State.

The evening exercises, commenced at 7 o'clock, and the crowd assembled at the chapel to hear the speeches of the students.

They were all very fine especially the original speeches of Mr. Barringer, Corah Clapp, W. A. Long, J. F. Murphy and C. V. Vails.

We are glad to see that the school is in a progressive condition; the exercises showing that the boys are well instructed. The Salisbury Cornet Band furnished music for the occasion. Under the instruction of Prof. W. H. Neave, it has become one of the best in the State. W.

Halifax Matters.

Correspondence of the News.

HALIFAX, May 21.—The Inferior Court met here Monday, 18th. Justices Hill and Clark on the bench. Monday was consumed by nolle pros., etc. Tuesday it was announced that the Commissioners' cases would be tried. Early in the day the Court House was full of people who had come in to these cases that have been making so much noise. The whole day was consumed in getting a jury, and every man in the court room and in the town had been summoned and up to the time of adjournment only eleven jurors were in the box; when the Solicitor for the State announced his willingness to take any one of the defendants' counsel, whereupon Mr. Mullen was suggested, but refused to serve, Mr. Burton did the same, but Mr. Moore accepted and took his seat in the box; all the counsel passed except Mr. Day, who was not present in the room. He was sent for, and as soon as he came objected, as Mr. Moore was counsel in the case and a lawyer. The Court then ordered a special venire of 200 men for to-day.

This morning the court met at the usual hour, the counsel soon obtained a jury, and are now proceeding slowly with the case. Mr. Whitaker for the State, Messrs. Mullen & Moore, Day, Grizzard and Burton for the defendants.

The case bids fair to occupy the week; and there is some doubt whether the Inferior Court can hold two weeks. If not, the jail case will remain untouched. C.

Items From Forsythe.

Correspondence of the News.

WINSTON, May 20.—We have had incessant rains of heavy force which have injured farmers very much. The damp weather has caused an influx of tobacco and all the warehouses are crowded, yet prices have held up well.

Trade has been lively of late—the business men are cheerful.

The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, of Boston, gave concerts in Salem, last Thursday and Friday nights, which were said to be superbly grand. They assisted also, in rendering music last Friday in the Moravian church when the 75th anniversary of the Salem Female academy was celebrated with imposing ceremonies.

News Items are exceedingly scarce. Railroad matters are agitating some of our citizens, but no definite action has yet been taken.

MECKLENBURG'S GLORY!

ANNIVERSARY AT CHARLOTTE OF THE DECLARATION OF 1775.

A Fine Day, Large Concourse, Eloquent Orations, Splendid Parade and a General Good Time.

Correspondence of the News.

CHARLOTTE, May 21.—As stated in my telegram I forward a description of yesterday's ceremonies here. The day was as fine as could be wished for. In the early morning the citizens were up and doing, decorating their residences as well as the streets, flags being stretched across the latter, greeting the eye from every direction. From 9 to 10 o'clock the whistles of locomotives told of the arrival of fresh trains packed with visitors, and as they did not return till evening the streets were crowded all day. The number of visitors is variously estimated at from 5,000 to 6,000, and is believed to be the largest that ever congregated in this city on a similar occasion with the exception of that of 1875, the centennial year.

THE PROCESSION

was formed about 11 o'clock under the direction of the chief marshal, Col. H. C. Jones, and his aids, and was led by the Statesville cornet band preceding the military companies, five in number. The Charlotte Grays was headed by a carriage drawn by two gray horses conveying La Fille du Regiment, little Miss Bessie Sanders. Following the companies were carriages containing Governor Jarvis and staff, Lieutenant-Governor Robinson, Hon. Wm. M. Robbins, the orator of the day, Gen. John A. Young, the reader of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, Mayor Osborne and others. Next were the fire companies, with the Concord cornet band, their apparatus handsomely decorated, ending with the Continental battalion.

After the start was made the procession moved to the grounds of the Carolina Military Institute, where a large stage was erected and seats arranged for the audience.

The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. E. H. Harding, and General Young then read the Mecklenburg Declaration.

The chief marshal then introduced the Hon. William M. Robbins, of Statesville, who delivered a stirring and most excellent address. He opened by referring to classical and modern instances of heroism, and said that the memory of great deeds inspires men to emulate them; that it was of importance that every people should treasure up the legacy of honorable traditions, since the consciousness of being descendants of an illustrious stock could not fail to awaken sentiments of patriotism and pride. He discussed the questions relating to the causes that led to the enunciation of the now famous Declaration, as well as its authenticity, and then proceeded to review the terms of the instrument as well as the impulses that governed the hearts and minds of its framers, classing these patriots as statesmen of the highest order. He spoke of the Anglo-Saxon race, from which our ancestors sprung, with all the virtues of industry, perseverance and common sense, as being the noblest that ever existed, and then gave a clear, concise history of the events that crowded thick and fast upon those "troublous times." He adverted to the individual instances of heroism displayed by those, many of whom became in later days celebrated in the history of the State. He closed with a most eloquent peroration, the final sentences of which were nearly as follows:

"Despair is not a word in the vocabulary of North Carolinians unless they were the degenerate offspring of a noble race; and the bearing of her gallant sons and her true-hearted daughters amid the fiery trials which recently tested them showed full well to all the world that North Carolina 'has not lost the breed of noble bloods.' I call you then, my fellow North Carolinians, this day to renewed courage, energy and hope. Warmed by the inspiring memories of the olden time, mindful that the high blood of heroes and patriots courses through your veins, let us show ourselves worthy of them by our devotion to the honor of North Carolina, by standing like a wall of fire round the citadel of her liberties, and by the thorough organization of her immense material resources, until by the blessing of favoring Heaven, the great glory of her past shall be transcended by the greater glory of her future."

Governor Jarvis was then called for, and on being introduced by the marshal spoke of the necessity of an active State pride. He gave illustrations of what North Carolina had suffered from lack of this, and also recalled her past history and enumerated her resources to show what her people had to be proud of. He referred to the object of the gathering to-day and the lessons that might be drawn from it, and said there was one thing he hoped never to hear of a North Carolinian doing again and that was doubting that there was a declaration of independence by the people of Mecklenburg county on the 20th of May, 1775. It was a fact in his opinion established beyond controversy, and was one in which the whole State should feel an equal pride with Mecklenburg county.

Judge Fowle and Lieutenant-Governor Robinson each made some few remarks, and then the procession marched to the public square and disbanded.

PRESENTATION OF THE CADETS.

Immediately after the conclusion of the speaking, the cadets of the Carolina Military Institute were presented by Col. Thomas to Gov. Jarvis, Col. Thomas saying that they represented the hearts of three States and bore the arms of North Carolina, and he trusted that should the occasion demand it they would always be ready to use those arms to defend the State. The Governor replied, congratulating the young men upon their appearance, and upon the advantages they enjoyed in receiving their education at one of the best institutions in the country.

Everything passed off finely, there happening no accidents to mar the pleasure of the day with the single exception of a young man belonging to the Continental Battalion having the misfortune to break his leg, and Charlotte's citizens may feel justly proud of this her yearly attempt to keep green the memory of those gallant men who helped with their minds, their blood and their scant treasure to help work out emancipation from tyrannous and heedless rulers.

The Big Paper of Paris.

St. Louis Republican.

Americans newly arrived in Paris are struck with amazement at the poularity of the Figaro. It is the one paper of all Paris. You see it prominently displayed at the news-stands, find it in all the cafes, see it in the hands of those who ride in cabs, or in busses and tramways; you ask your French neighbor for the best newspaper in Paris, and he tells you the Figaro. You take it, and for days, probably, bend your mental energies to the task of comprehending the virtues of such a singular-looking and peculiarly-conducted newspaper. You are first struck with its appearance—a folio sheet about the size of one half of the Republican, printed on type as big as our pica and bourgeois, with a staring head-line in letters two inches long. Not bad type for weak eyes, you say, and you feel as friendly to it as you do to a hand-bill or one of the "Famous" advertisements after blinding yourself by two or three columns of nonpareil in one of our papers. But you glance along the columns of the Figaro for the news, first by telegraph. You find all there is of it in about a half column, tucked away somewhere in one of the dead pages without headlines. And the news itself is scarcely worth the space it occupies. It is rare to find a two or three-line dispatch from America. Your eye may alight upon a half dozen lines daily from the capitals of the leading governments in Europe, and this information confined to politics or the movements of leading personages, the royal families and other officials of distinction. No specials from any quarter of France or the world outside. You turn then to the local news to find out what happened yesterday and last night. The doings of this great city of 2,000,000 of inhabitants are probably contained in a single column and the announcements of things to take place to-day find rarely any room at all. There is one page of advertisements and there is about a third of one page devoted scrupulously each day to the feuilleton, that is, a chapter or so of some story or romance by a well known author. Scanning still more closely its columns for the one supreme excellence of this favorite paper, you seek its editorials. There are none. You will find some leading articles on the first page treating of current topics, but each bears a signature, a well-known nom de plume, or the real name of the writer. These articles are sometimes able, always vivacious, frequently witty and amusing. They rarely touch on politics, never on religion or morals. You will find also pungent criticisms of new books, painting, sculpture, music and the drama. The stage is the one absorbing topic of the paper. The actresses and the singer, their sayings and their doings, the gossip of the green-room and the foyer, the scandals proceeding from those and which circulates on the boulevards and in the cafes, demand more energy and talent and style than anything else in the Figaro. One other feature next in importance is the indecent joke frequently appearing under the head of "Nouvelles a la Main," not grossly conveyed, by any means, but expressed with great nicety of language, the utmost refinement of double entendre, the indelicate meaning sugared o'er with the witty phrase, the offense and the repulsion of the idea scarcely able to contend against the seduction and grace of style. For the rest, there is a short report of the markets or the bourse, a weather article and a "Gazette du Sport."

A CURE FOR HYDROPHOBIA.

The Remarkable Dream of a West Virginia Negro and its Result.

Correspondence New York Sun.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., May 5.—A colored inmate of the country poorhouse, about twenty-one years of age, has betrayed symptoms of hydrophobia for several years. At the age of nine years he was bitten in the hand by a dog, which was afterward killed on suspicion that it was mad. In the course of time the colored man, who is also a cripple in both legs, became an inmate of the poorhouse. At times he seemed to be in sound health and with unimpaired mental faculties, perhaps for several days. Then suddenly he would feel an itching sensation in the palm of the right hand, which would rapidly ascend the right arm, affecting the mesial and cutaneous nerves, until the whole of the right side would be affected. Usually he would inform his keepers, who would confine him to his cell, a strong room from which it was impossible for him to escape. He would soon begin to froth at the mouth, growl, whine, bark and snap at anything in his reach, occasionally tearing his own flesh with his teeth and nails. During these rabid spells his eyes would turn in his head; he would display the ferocity of a wild beast upon the approach of any one, and would become frantic at the sight of water. These strange actions had been of regular occurrence until one morning, a short time ago, awaking from a deep sleep of physical exhaustion, the unfortunate man called Mr. Joseph Cook, the superintendent, to his cell, and told him that he had seen a man in a dream, who informed him that if he would gather a certain weed which grew on a certain part of the farm (describing a spot where he said he had never been, and even the identical spot on which the weed grew), he would recover entirely from his disease. Mr. Cook ridiculed the idea as the emanation of a diseased mind, caused by an affection of the nervous system, but the colored man strenuously adhered to the belief that it would cure him. At length, to get rid of his importunities, he was taken in a wagon to a point near the spot indicated and lifted out. He crawled directly to the place, which was exactly as he described it. There he found a small clump of weeds, which he declared to be the weed which he saw in his dream. He pulled it up and masticated leaves and stalk, as he was taken to his room in the poor-house. Some eight or ten days have elapsed, and the spasms and rabid fits which had been of almost daily occurrence, have altogether ceased, and he declares himself entirely recovered. His physicians say there is no doubt that he was afflicted with hydrophobia, and that his cure is apparently genuine. They have tried in vain to ascertain the name of the weed, but as there was only a solitary clump of it, and the negro ate the whole of that, the chances are that this cure will remain a mystery in materia medica. Still these medical gentlemen have one basis of hope in the fact that a minute fragment of chick weed (Genera Stillaria) was found in the wagon just after the negro was lifted out on his return.

A Word to Senator Vance.

Petersburg Index-Appeal.

It is rather amusing that Senator Merrimon lost his seat in the Senate for the reason that he read his speeches from manuscript, and that Governor Vance, his successor, should have opened his senatorial career by indulging in the very same practice. It will hardly be believed in some parts of North Carolina that Zeb gave the Senate a written speech. We advise the Governor not to do so any more. When it comes to manuscript there are not a few members of the Senate who carry more weight than he; whereas, we have always fondly believed that none of them could "get away with him" (as the heathen say) in an extemporaneous and rough-roll and tumble forensic fight. If the latter is the Senator's talent, as his friends believe, he ought to give it full sway and exercise, and not essay flight in other fields and elements which may not be as congenial to him. We confess to have been somewhat disappointed by the maiden Senatorial speeches both of Gov. Vance and Gov. Hampton, but we hope and expect to hear better accounts of both of them before they have sat much longer in the upper chamber.

PILLS AND POWDERS.

MEETING OF THE STATE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

The Doctors Turn Out Largely at the Annual Gathering---Blasted Hopes.

Correspondence of the News.

GREENSBORO, May 21.—The great event of the week here, as you know, is the annual meeting of the State Medical Society. It is the largest and most interesting meeting ever held by the physicians in this State. Over one hundred are in attendance, and a finer looking body of men is seldom seen. The hospitalities of the city are freely extended.

The proceedings are full of interest; the papers read and the discussions on medical subjects are more than usually able, and all is harmonious in this scientific and progressive body.

The Board of Medical Examiners are in session, and have examined nearly forty applicants for licenses to practice under our State laws. The Board is very searching and rigid in their examinations, but not too much so. The able President of the Board, Dr. Pe E. Hines, goes in for maintaining a high standard, and is laudably sustained by the other members. All this is as should be; the time has at last arrived when a license to practice under the decision of our State Board of Medical Examiners is more difficult to obtain, is more to be sought for, and more valuable than a diploma from the best medical college, so-called, in this country.

So much for the protection of the public health and for the cause of medical improvement in North Carolina. Nearly one dozen applicants have been rejected after a full and fair examination.

The subject of the State Board of Health made this annual meeting much larger than usual, especially as it was known that under the recent amendments of the legislature, a new election, by ballot, of members of the board was required at this meeting. The election was animated. The following gentlemen were elected:

To serve for the ensuing six years—Drs. S. S. Satchwell, of Pender county, and Thomas F. Wood, of Wilmington.

To serve for the ensuing four years—Drs. C. J. O'Hagan, of Pitt county, and George A. Foote, of Warren county.

To serve for the ensuing two years—Drs. R. L. Payne, of Lexington, and M. Whitehead, of Salisbury.

The Board, as thus elected, by the Society, met to-day, and adjourned on the election of the following officers: President, Dr. S. S. Satchwell; Secretary, Dr. Thomas F. Wood.

The Governor has appointed the State chemist, Dr. Ledoux, and Major Rann, of Charlotte, civil engineer, as members of the Board. Dr. Ledoux was present. To-morrow the election of officers of the Society will take place. It is thought an adjournment will take place to-morrow evening. AN OBSERVER.

A Comprehensive Definition.

New York Herald.

A contemporary asks, "What is an independent Republican of the present time, anyway?" He is a sort of campmeeting brigadier—a kind of fizz on the two seidlitz powders—a calf with five legs—a hot ice-cream—a frozen bonfire—a Persian apple, one side of which is sweet and the other side sour—a huckleberry that wishes to be a watermelon. In principle he is always afraid—afraid that Republican caucuses may not make mistakes so that that the Democrats may win.

Natural Impatience.

Pittsburg Dispatch (Rep.).

More than one party would be gratified if the Democrats in Congress would be pleased to indicate precisely what they are going to do. There is no strategy in silence or delay. There is no amusement in prolonging the session, either for Congress or the country. Everybody wants an adjournment; Congress itself wants an adjournment, and still adjournment hangs fire, while fire is a cold illustration of the heat that will soon strike Washington.

Working up a Peculiar Cause.

Cincinnati Commercial.

It is a pity Delaware and Vermont cannot enlarge themselves by the annexation of surrounding territory. If they could, Bayard and Edmunds would have some show. Maryland and New Jersey might be added to Mr. Bayard's patrimony, and New Hampshire and a slice of Canada to that of Senator Edmunds. Those gentlemen would then have constituents enough to form a brass band to blow for them next year.

Hayes' Presidential Position.

New York Sun.

Hayes does not mean to re-elect Grant. He does not mean to help Grant to obtain the Republican nomination for President in 1880. If he should use his opportunities and influence to that it would be at the expense of John Sherman's political fortunes, and, for all Presidential purposes, the machinery of the fraudulent Administration is wholly and unreservedly at John Sherman's command.

A Democratic Measure.

Kansas City Times.

The Democratic proposition is to abolish the internal revenue outfit and make up the deficit by a tax on all incomes over five thousand dollars per annum. This would certainly be a popular measure, as taking the burden of taxation from the toiling masses and placing it upon the shoulders of accumulated wealth.

The First of its Kind.

St. Paul Globe.

There have been a good many lunatics consigned to asylums for religious fervor, and it is appropriate that we should mention the fact that a man at Minerva, Ohio, has just been consigned to the insane asylum for Masonic lunacy. It is the first case of the kind, and ought to be recorded.

A Question for the Brethren.

New York Sun.

We have the remarkable spectacle of three Presbyterian general assemblies in session in our country at the same time. One of these, in sending greetings yesterday to the other two, declared that they all held "a common faith and order." Why don't they hitch teams, then?

Grant Homeward Bound.

Nashville American.

If we are not mistaken, Japan is the last ground to be touched by the sole of Grant before his holy heel presses his own sacred soil. From Japan he starts east for San Francisco. While that great luminary comes eastward, to rise and shine in the west, we suppose the great sun will continue to go west. We have not yet heard of any astronomical changes by which that orbit is to wheel about under the disturbing influence of the radical center of centralization. Many times these two centers of their own systems will pass each other on the great Pacific and salute in passing, each shining, as a center of light, upon distant members of his own system. The sun moves in solitary grandeur, unattended, while Grant, surrounded by his satellites, shines from afar as he comes up from the west upon George W. Childs, Robeson, Conkling, Babcock, Boss Shepherd, Belknap, and the rest of his centralized planetary system, and prepares the glorious day of their Nirvana, when they hope to be absorbed into the center of their system, supreme in power and glory. The most affecting and impressive scene in the progress of this luminary toward the East will be the conjunction of Grant and the Sun, "and the best country the sun ever shone on," and the Credit Mobilier members, whisky, rings, post traders, district rings, safe burglary conspirators, railway sharks, gold speculators, the planets of his system, at the Golden Gate, when the god of day, at meridian, shall salute the old man as his foot touches his own soil and all the hosts assembled shall lift their voices and clap their hands, while their finger ends tingle with joy and itch with delight at the prospect of getting back, the arm up to the shoulder, into the Treasury.

STATE NEWS.

Chatham.

Pittsboro Record.

Roseola or, as it is sometimes called, rose-rash and sometimes known as French measles, has been quite prevalent in our community for the past two weeks. It is not at all serious in its character, but at the same time it is decidedly uncomfortable to those affected with it.

The jail at Hillsboro is so insecure that it has been determined to enlarge and repair it, and while it is undergoing repair the prisoners are to be sent to our jail for safe keeping. Among these prisoners is one under sentence for murder, and another (a woman) awaiting her trial for the murder of her husband. The authorities of Orange may feel assured of their safe confinement in our new and splendid jail, which is generally conceded to be one of the best in the State.

Pender.

Wilmington Review.

There has not been a bill of indictment found against a citizen, nor has there been a man arrested charged with an offense against the State, in Holly township, since the war. There may be other townships in the State which can present as pure a record, but we have serious doubts of such another instance to be found anywhere.

The Down-hearted Man Wanted to See It.

Detroit Free Press.

About ten o'clock one morning two men met on Sixth street and began threatening and calling each other names. One finally called the other a liar, and the two were about to grapple when a woman opened the door and said:

"Gentlemen, are you about to fight?"

"We are!" they answered together.

"Then have the kindness to wait a moment," she continued. "My poor husband has been sick for weeks and weeks, and is now just able to sit up. He is very down-hearted this morning, and if you'll only wait till I can get him up to the window, I know he'll feel very grateful to both of you."

She disappeared into the house, and after one look at each other's faces the men smiled, shook hands and departed together.

A Desperate Suicide.

John Chandler, a wealthy farmer of North Nassau, New York, left his house on Tuesday, after telling his daughter to prepare breakfast. He was found in the woods some hours later dying from self-inflicted wounds. He first attempted to kill himself by hanging, making a rope of his shirt. The garment was not strong enough to support his weight, and he fell to the ground. He then placed his head on a large stone, took another stone in his hands and began to hammer out his own brains. He did not succeed well enough to satisfy himself, and left this stone and proceeded to another, leaving a trail of blood on the ground. On this he laid his head again and repeated the operation. For a second time he failed to kill himself, and abandoned this stone. He went to a third one, and this time, having found a three-cornered stone, he kept pounding his head until he was no longer able to raise his arm. When found he was yet alive, though unconscious. His skull was broken badly and his brains were scattered about.

"WHITEWASHING."

A LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE SLIGHTING ITS WORK.

How the President of a Railroad Company can Make Mules and Politics Remunerative.

Correspondence of the News.

BURKE Co., N. C., May 19, 1879.—Your correspondent "Burke," in criticising the action of the Legislative committee appointed to examine and report upon the alleged mismanagement of the affair of the W. N. C. R. R. Co., seemed to have entirely overlooked much of the testimony in the case. That of the secretary and treasurer of the company certainly display greater ignorance of matters concerning which it is his duty to be fully informed, and in proportion to his opportunities for information, than any employee whose testimony was published. And the fault does not lie altogether with the witness either, who was interrogated and permitted to give as evidence his non-recollections, judgments and opinions as to several important matters which ought to have been of record in his office, and not once required or even requested to exhibit the records or turn to them to refresh his recollection in testifying.

Great anxiety was manifested by the committee to find out who had prompted the investigation and the reasons therefor; to learn whether B. A. Berry was fairly nominated by the Democratic convention in Burke county, or whether he packed it with radicals; and to ascertain the extent "of his pandering to an agrarian feeling in certain sections of Burke county." The aim of the committee seems to have been of the facts tending to sustain the charges against the managers and employees the of the road. Wherever indications of the president's crookedness appeared in the course of the examination of witnesses the pursuit was instantly abandoned, and instead of an effort to unearth the wrong it was to conceal it if possible. Every man of ordinary intelligence, after reading the testimony and report, can readily see that there was no honest effort made to ascertain what the president was to receive for the logs cut near Icard, nor the amount of his bill for mules and carts hired to the company, nor the names of persons to whom free passes were issued and the considerations therefor, nor run to political conventions and elections, nor, indeed, concerning any mismanagement whatever. Why was not the president called to testify in regard to these matters, and the books and accounts of the company produced to show all the facts relative to these several transactions, as they should have shown if properly kept? Why did the president not exhibit these books and papers, showing the whole business fully and clearly? It was a small work, and if innocent of the charges, he might at once and forever have set himself right before the [illegible] to us this shows that the records were not clean, and that to have exhibited them would have convicted him.

THE NUMBER OF FREE TRAINS

THE ATTEMPT OF THE COMMITTEE to create the impression that the president is serving the company at great personal sacrifice is too weak. The average tax-payer will not be able to see it. On the contrary every one must see that he is taking advantage of the embarrassed condition of the company and using his position to make secret oral bargains with the directors for furnishing supplies for the road, and using it for the accommodation of political conventions and friends of his candidates.

The statement of the treasurer was accepted as satisfactory proof that all the bonds of the employees of the road were good and sufficient, without asking the names of the sureties or whether there were any, the witness' bond being $50,000; while in the case of Whitson, whose testimony they sought to weaken by showing that the president had been one of his sureties, though the bond had long ago been cancelled; extreme diligence was used to make the investigation complete.

The committee "examined the books, papers and office of the secretary and treasurer and found everything in perfect order. All the present officers and subordinates perform their duties satisfactorily." Yet according to the testimony of these officers, the honesty alone of a merchant in Salisbury prevented the company from paying twice for the same article; no record was kept of large and important contracts and dealings of the president with the company; and beside other serious irregularities are made to appear. Now it is submitted that this committee was more easily satisfied than will be their masters, the tax-payers, to whom an account of their stewardship must be rendered.

THE TESTIMONY SHOWS:

1. That 300 logs were cut on the president's land, near Icard Station, transported gratuitously 40 or 50 miles on the railroad to his mill, sawed by convict labor and the lumber used in construction of the road, but no price or value fixed upon it, and no opportunity offered to other persons to bid for the contract, though there was plenty of suitable timber owned by others in the neighborhood of the work.

2. That the president hired his mules and carts to the company, to be fed and kept in repair by the latter, at the rate of $78 a year for each mule and cart. As to how many or how long they were furnished nobody knew.

3. Free trains were run to the Hickory convention in May, 1878, and to the elections at Marion and Old Fort.

4. Free passes were issued. As to how many or who were the favored dead-heads no information is given.

5. Wood and lumber were hauled free of charge for the employees and president.

6. That no record is kept of secret contracts between the president and directors whereby the president is allowed to furnish supplies to the road. Yet all is lovely and no mismanagement discovered by this committee.

Now it is not the immediate pecuniary loss occasioned by this mismanagement of the road, but the

to follow from the tolerating of such abuses that concern the people. If this condition of affairs is to be continued and such abuses continued, how long will it be till corruption will pervade every public department?

Are the people who pay the taxes expected to indorse these abuses without complaint? Nay, verily. The legislator or railroad official who thinks to practice such imposition as this without rebuke, will find that he has sadly mistaken the temper of the people.

POLITICAL PROSPECTS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The Democratic party has not been able to exhibit its entire strength in North Carolina at but few, if any, elections since reconstruction.

The elections in 1874 and 1876 showed more strength for the Democratic party than any other elections we have held, but it is believed, and there is good reason for the opinion, that those elections did not show the full strength of the party in the State. In all other elections the party vote has been far below the actual strength. One fault has been in a lack of thorough organization. Organization that reaches from the capital to the humblest village and most remote sections of the counties is what the party needs. We do not mean to criticise the State committees though improvement might be made in its efficiency. But we do mean to say, that with some exceptions, the district and county committees have accomplished but little. In order to have an efficient organization, it will not do merely to have one or two district committee meetings, appoint county committees, address a well worded circular, full of hope and exhortation, and then each man retire to his home and private affairs and give up the contest to the candidates. The circular addressed last year by Mr. Ashe, the Chairman of the State central committee, to the district and sub-committees of the State, suggested a plan, which, if it had been followed strictly by the district and county committees, would have saved us all the disaster that came upon us. The contemptible exhibit made of our vote in the various Congressional districts was a disgrace to the party and its organization. The result was not due to the want of popularity of the candidates, for we had in each district, good, faithful and popular leaders, most of whom had led our forces to victory when we were weaker than in this contest. The apathy, which resulted in so small a vote last November, not wholly, but in a great measure, was due to the inefficiency of our organization. The campaign of 1876 routed and put to flight the Radical party of North Carolina. Demoralization and disorganization seized the party, and so little hope had the leaders that they were not able to put a ticket in the field at the August election of 1878.

It was exactly this state of things which came near proving a complete disaster to the Democratic party at the ensuing November election. The organization of the party was allowed to fall to pieces, and not until immediately preceding the election did our leaders realize the critical situation. As it was, we lost two districts, Martin, who represents the first district, is a regular straightout Republican, and voted on the first day of the session to make Rainey, the colored man, Clerk of the House. As to Russell, who claims to be a Greenbacker, we cannot refrain from saying that his pretensions in that quarter are assumed to deceive the people of his district. There is not a man on the floor of the House of Representatives, who hates the Democratic party more than this same socalled Greenbacker, Hon. D. M. Russell, nor is there one who cherishes and fosters more the spirit of persecution and revenge which the Republican party has poured out on the South than this misrepresentative of the good people of the third district.

Now is the time to begin our plans for the great campaign of 1880. Let the plans be now matured. Let us begin to marshal our forces, and put in readiness our resources, so that when the bugles shall sound the charge in 1880 the Democracy of North Carolina will be ready to face the foe and drive them from the field.

No man with sound sense doubts that our State is thoroughly Democratic; we must not rest upon such assurances, but remembering the times when the tyrant's heel was upon us; when the thief, the robber and the traitor were our law makers; when riot, and arson, and murder were turned loose upon a defenseless people, we will not fail to rally with such zeal and enthusiasm as will secure victory and perpetual peace.

THE indiscriminate removal of cases from State courts to the courts of the United States, has been not only a fruitful source of annoyance to the litigants, but has greatly assisted in cumbering the dockets of the Federal courts, until there is no prospect of ever seeing an end to the enormous mass of business that looms up before the district, circuit and supreme judiciary. The bill recently reported by Mr. Townshend, from the Committee on the Revision of Laws, is intended to restrict this great and growing evil, and to do so in a way that will not impair any right of a citizen or jeopardize any interest of the Government. It provides against the sweeping removal of civil causes, by either party, upon a mere affidavit, from a State to a Federal court. At present, a plaintiff, after he has elected to have his cause tried before a State court, can effect its removal on a mere quibble. The bill, if enacted, will put a stop to this practice. But in all civil actions against any officer of the Government, growing out of acts done under color of his office, the defendant's right to transfer is not disturbed by any provision in this bill.

The most prominent feature of the measure is that in cases of felony, committed against the laws of a State—such as murder, robbery, burglary, arson and larceny—the party accused will be deprived of the right to take the case from a State court, where it can be tried, to a Federal court, where it cannot be tried—because there is no law applicable to it. As the statutes stand, the defendant in a criminal case has only to make oath that he committed the alleged crime under color of his office, and the case is immediately transferred to a Federal court, and results in the discharge of the accused, for the simple reason that there is no United States law which prescribes any punishment for these crimes, when committed within the jurisdiction of a State.

THE legal rights of the Indians have been established in the case of "Standing Bear" and party who were taken out of prison on a writ of habeas corpus, at Omaha, some time since. The Indians were being returned to the Indian Territory against their will by military force, and were stopped at Omaha by a citizen of that place, who proposed to test the legality of the measure. The Indians were being removed under the order of General Crook, commander of the Department, and by force were being sent back to a country so unhealthy that the tribe was likely to be speedily exterminated. The Judge of the United States Court, before whom the case came, decided that General Crook had no rightful authority to force any of these Indians to the Indian Territory; that they possess the inherent right of expatriation, and have the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, so long as they obey the the laws. Their immediate release was ordered, and they will be at liberty to join the portion of their tribe, the Poncas, in Dakota. The decision will create a great change in the conduct of affairs in the Indian country, and thousands of Indians now in sections of the country where they are compelled to stay under threat of death, will take advantage of the decision in this case, which is eminently humane and just and no more than the due of the red men.

INDIA is one of the sore spots in the world just now. Famine, pestilence and misgovernment in the Punjaub, the Deccan and Bombay have been followed by riot and threats of the massacre of officials and the Europeans. These evils usually appear in their most aggravated form in India, the people being improvident, their products and industries lacking variety, and their rulers having too little interest in their welfare. They suffer, too, from the general business depression of the world, and the silver question affects their interests more perhaps than those of any other people.

NOW READY FOR DELIVERY!

The Digest of Cited Cases

IN THE

North Carolina Reports.

By Hon. A. W. Tourgee.

We are happy to announce to the legal profession that this valuable work is now ready for delivery to subscribers. The labor of preparation and the necessity of securing the utmost possible accuracy in the immense number of citations, has necessarily delayed the work, but the result cannot but be satisfactory to every practitioner. It contains every case in the Reports of the State which has been cited by the Court, in which it is approved, with a careful digest of the point of citation with a full and accurate index to the subject matter of each. In form, matter, completeness and style of publication, it unquestionably is the best law book ever published in the state containing 750 large double-column pages, 8,000 cited cases and about 9,000 citations.

It will be mailed to subscribers on receipt of the price, $12 with 20 cents for postage, or sent by Express C. O. D. when the latter is more convenient. Persons desiring to have the work should order at once, as the edition is a limited one.

Talbott's Patent Spark Arrester,

THE INVENTION OF THE AGE.

Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies. Its prominent features are:

It does not destroy the draft.

It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes.

It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.

It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left open and allow sparks to escape.)

It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition.

It is simple and durable, and can be relied upon.

It can be attached to any boiler.

No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as charged for water or horse-power.

Send for illustrated circulars and price list.

GRAND Hotel Property

In Richmond, Va., with Furniture, Fixtures, Horses, Omnibuses, and everything Complete for the Business, Fronting Capitol street and Capitol Square, on Ninth street, The Loveliest spot in the South.

For Sale at Public Auction

By request of Messrs. Hunter & Pendleton, owners of the "St. Claire Hotel," located on the northwest corner of Grace and Ninth Streets, and now doing a large and rapidly increasing business, with a reputation equal to any Hotel in Richmond, I shall sell by public auction, upon the premises, on THURSDAY, THE 29TH DAY OF MAY, 1879, AT 12 O'CLOCK, M.,

the Hotel as above described, with a front on Grace street of 88 9-12 feet and on Ninth street 193 6-12 feet with a depth of 120 feet on its north line, and a width on its rear of 73 6-12 feet. The Hotel is a partly four stories and partly three stories above basement. Contains sixty-three rooms. The Frame Dwelling adjoining, and fronting on Ninth street, which included in the sale, contains seven rooms, kitchen, laundry, servants apartments, stable, carriage-house, &c., &c., situated in the geographical centre of the city, in front of the State Capitol square, with an elevation insuring a healthful air and fine views of the surrounding country. This is justly considered the

Most Desirable Position for a Hotel

in Richmond, located as it is on one of the great thoroughfares of the city, where street cars are passing every few minutes, and within a few squares of the post office, custom-house and all public places, and yet withal, in a quiet and delightful locality, where property is steadily and continually improving in value. The sale of this property should commend itself to men of capital, and to hotel at large, who may desire now to secure permanently the location the best and most desirable of all others for that business in Richmond and in the entire south.

The Furniture is comparatively new, and is of good modern style—such as is usually found in a first-class hotel.

The fixtures, &c., required for the Hotel business will be included in sale—such as China-ware, &c., &c.

The owners have concluded to sell positively on the day named. Parties may attend expecting to see the sale made on the day named. The terms will be made exceedingly liberal, and will be announced fully on day and hour of sale.

ROBT. B. LYNE, Auctioneer.

N. B.—This advertisement will not in any way interfere with the business of the hotel, and our friends and patrons will be made as comfortable and taken as good care of as heretofore. HUNTER & PENDLETON, Proprietors of St. Claire Hotel.

GOOD MORNING!

NEW GOODS

AT

A. CREECH'S.

CUSTOMERS, THIS ADVERTISEMENT is for your interest, as I have just what I have received my stock of Spring Goods for 1879, and it affords me pleasure to say to you that every DEPARTMENT is full and complete, with New Goods, from Coarse to Fine Fabrics, bought by myself in person from Importers and Manufacturers by the package.

And here allow me to say that industry is the vital spark of commercial life, and brains, the big cog-wheel that runs the tireless Engine, and Cash is that surest and solid stuff that will buy goods cheap, and still in the brains of the shrewdest business men. Now, I claim that my goods will get to hand pale or bottom prices.

But I think every merchant of experience will outside with me in saying that goods have not been sold within the last twenty-five years so low as they are this spring, and I feel sure that my friends and Merchandise have reached their bottom prices.

As many of them advanced and are still advancing, and it will only take a little money and financial skill to save money by buying goods before they further advance in value.

And in connection with this, let me say that you see alterations of advertisements, selling at cost and below, and some say the bottom's out, and goods at bankrupt prices and various other kinds. But let me tell you,

That I suppose at least a thousand persons at this writing will know that

CREECH'S

DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY, - - - - - - - MAY 23, 1879.

It must be questioned, after all whether the breeches make the man, as some of the leading lights of the woman movement would have us believe. There are plenty of obdurate specimens of the so-called male sex, who insist that the composition of the alleged female mind, for instance, is widely different from that of the positively male, and that no amount of masculine tailoring will remove the existing obstacles which stand in the way of the average woman's ability to understand the rules of logic or reach conclusions by any method of reasoning. The firm hold which this superstition has acquired will not be shaken, we fear, among those who adopted it until the human family has undergone a change far less superficial than that of wardrobe, for every now and then man, tyrant man, seeks to justify his prejudice through what he considers the foibles of the sex. The incident that occurred in the Senate Chamber of the National Capitol Monday will be eagerly seized upon to fortify the masculine position. Senator Vance was speaking vehemently when a terrific pounding of the floor with an umbrella attracted the attention of a deputy sergeant at arms. The object upon which his eye fell had a strongly masculine appearance. It was attired in coat and pantaloons and scowled with much of the energy of a "bad man." The officer cautioned the object to refrain from unseemly demonstrations, but it continued to pound vigorously. Debating in his mind the proper method of dealing with the anomaly—for there was a dubiousness of sex in the appearance of the person—the officer threatened to expel it from the gallery. At this proposition the figure responded, "If you touch me I'll squeal." The remark settled in the officer's mind a conviction that although the trowsers were those of man, the impulse was unquestionably that of woman, and a moment's scrutiny showed that the squealer was none other than Dr. Mary Walker. From which misadventure the tyrants will affirm that not all the outer garments in the world will transform a woman into a man.

TUTT'S PILLS

THE GREATEST MEDICAL TRIUMPH OF THE AGE.

TUTTS' PILLS CURE SICK HEADACHE.
TUTT'S PILLS CURE DYSPEPSIA.
TUTT'S PILLS CURE CONSTIPATION.
TUTT'S PILLS CURE PILES.
TUTT'S PILLS CURE FEVER AND AGUE.
TUTT'S PILLS CURE BILIOUS COLIC.
TUTT'S PILLS Cure KIDNEY Complaint.
TUTT'S PILLS CURE TORPID LIVER.
TUTT'S PILLS IMPART APPETITE.

Dr. Tutt has succeeded in combining in these pills the heretofore antagonistic qualities of a STRENGTHING, PURGATIVE, and a PURIFYING TONIC.

Their first apparent effect is to increase the appetite by causing the food to properly assimilate. Thus the system is nourished, and by their tonic action on the digestive organs, regular and healthy evacuations are produced.

The rapidity with which PERSONS TAKE ON FLESH while under the influence of these pills, indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, melancholy, dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health & strength to the system. Sold everywhere.

Price 25 cents.

Office 53 Murray Street, NEW YORK.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person (about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpid Liver, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile, and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C. I can urwith Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.) It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Knitters Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va. Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, L. L. Col., Va. It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent Colic, sedative, sop rific, tonic, slightly ape ent, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Conf. About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last eight years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev. Robert W. watts, A. M., Va. I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For protection from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va. It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion, I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate. This remedy is of tried virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "Nation Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

Price 2 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists. In Raleigh, by Pescud, Lee & Co., and Williams & Haywood.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Full soon to the sea
The maiden will go
With the high-dressed he Who's known as her beau.

——Revenue receipts yesterday were $4,457.54.

——Pronounce the two words "Red Wardrobe" after taking three consecutive glasses of beer.

——The Young Knights of Temperance hold a regular meeting to night at their lodge-room.

——Soda water flows fluently from Simpson's fountain. Why? He charges only five cents a glass.

——One hundred dollars from John S. Finley & Co., of Charleston, S. C., was paid for their drummers' license yesterday.

——Person street revival accomplished much good, no less than eighty-two conversions were the result of the work.

——It will be a great relief to the public mind to learn that Mr. N. B. Blake is now pronounced by his physicians to be out of danger, and his early recovery may be looked for.

——The erection of cotton and tobacco and other factories in Raleigh will double its wealth and population in ten years. It has the capital and every other requisite, save one—action, and probably that. Let us see.

——Madame Besson has a very handsome stock of goods that will not fail to attract the attention of the ladies. She will be found so polite and accommodating and her stock is so handsome and so complete one can hardly visit the place once without returning again.

——Cylindrical hay mounds decorated the side walk in front of Capt. Thomas' farmers' supply emporium. He raises hay on his plantation in Virginia and imports to this State a better article for less money than our farmers have yet been able to accomplish.

——Street improvements are now the order of the day. They are visibly going on in several places where they are much needed. On Fayetteville St., near Creech's corner, just below the Yarboro House, and other important points are in the toils of the pick and shovel.

——The Board of Education will hold a meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Governor's office, to decide on the book question. About two dozen book agents have their hearts in their mouth this morning, but twenty-three of them will get down to regular position by nightfall.

Knights of Honor.

A called meeting of Oak City Lodge No. 419, K. of H., will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Promptness is requested. Work in the several degrees.

Ascension Day.

This day was observed yesterday by Episcopal and Catholic churches. Father Laffan celebrated high mass at St. John's Catholic church and preached upon the source of enduring happiness. His sermon is highly spoken of as an able discourse.

Sure Enough.

Mr. W. H. Morris, the popular proprietor of Morris' furniture establishment, puts forth an advertisement that he will sell his entire stock at cost for the next thirty days. He is a truthful man and does not mean to delude the public into buying his furniture at regular prices. Call and see him before the thirty days expire.

A Book for North Carolinians.

Hon. Kemp P. Battle, President of the University of North Carolina writes: "Moore's School History of North Carolina supplies a great want. The amount of information in so small a compass is astonishing. I cordially recommend its use to all, old and young, who wish to acquire knowledge of the history of the State. Major Moore deserves the gratitude of every lover of North Carolina." Price by mail, post paid, cloth, $1.25; Boards, (school edition) $1.00. Published by Alfred Williams & Co., Raleigh, N. C.

Cadets' Hop.

The Cadets of the Bingham School have issued invitations for a hop at the McAdoo House, Greensboro, on Monday evening, June 2d. The committee on invitation consists of Messrs. H. L. Simpson, of Florida, B. P. Axson, of Louisiana, T. M. Smith, of Georgia, and R. P. Gray, T. M. Vance, M. Stanback and J. W. Caldwell, of North Carolina. The floor managers are Messrs. C. W. Worth, of North Carolina, F. H. Drake and T. H. Morris, of Louisiana, and M. Reynolds, of South Carolina. The courtesy of an invitation has been extended us.

Personals.

A. Gambrill, Esq., one of the proprietors of the celebrated Patapsco Flouring Mills, is in the city, and stopping at the Yarboro House.

Col. T. B. Long is at the Yarboro.

Jim McKimmon, formerly of this city, is at the same hotel.

Col. W. F. Davis, formerly of Boston, now proprietor of the hotel at Kittrell, is at the Yarboro. This hotel, under the management of Col. Davis, has rendered Kittrell a very popular resort for Bostonians, with whom it is crowded during the winter and spring months. He is also one of the firm of Capehart, Davis & Co., Kittrell.

Meeting of the Agricultural Society.

The Executive Committee of the North Carolina Agricultural Society held a meeting last night at the Yarborough House, A. Creech, Esq., in the chair, and C. B. Denson, Secretary.

The entire session, which lasted until a late hour, was consumed in the revision of the report of the committee on the Premium List, which was completed, and on motion of R. H Battle, Jr., its publication was ordered.

A portion of Department M, was added to Department O, for the better exhibition and trial of plows and harrows. Many valuable suggestions were made in reference to the more effectual working of the various departments, and careful adjustment of the Premium List for the encouragement of the industries of the State.

The work of the Fair is steadily going forward. All persons desiring to exhibit are invited to address the Secretary upon any matters concerning their interests or those of the Society, and to send their addresses for copies of the List.

The Last Night at the Rink.

It is hard to part with the pleasures of this life, even for a short while, and no doubt many a heart within this city will beat sadly to learn that the Skating Rink will close to-night, and the sound of the rollicking roller will be heard no more in the land until next fall. Neither will the trickling drops of perspiration run down the rosy cheek, the occupation of the professional floor-bumper will soon be gone, and the jingle of the silver quarter will ring out and clear away many a half-dozen cigars or six small beers.

A Fair Offer.

No matter how watchful we may be with our children they will some day or another escape our vigilance, and some sad accident may be the result. The papers throughout the land teem with accounts of deaths by drowning, many of the cases being lads of ten to fifteen years of age, who venture into the water without knowing how to swim or sustain themselves when beyond their depth, and by the very knowledge of this fact lose presence of mind and sink.

It may be considered as absolutely necessary that all children of suitable years should be taught how to swim, and this idea has impressed itself upon others. Officer Lincke, of the police force, is an able and expert swimmer, and with a competent teacher and suitable bathing place, a swimming school might be easily organized. What is needed is the raising of a fund sufficient to clear out a portion of Gattis & Jones, pond and to erect the necesary shed or the storage of clothing, etc. Boys will be boys and go in bathing whether prohibited by parents or not, with all the chances in favor of a casualty. Then why not have them taught this healthful, invigorating and necessary accomplishment. Mr. Lincke states that it will not take more than a week or so to teach any child the art.

Death of B. Frank Wilson.

The Charlotte Observer gives the particulars of the death of Mr. B. Frank Wilson, which occurred in that city on Monday night last. It states that he did not appear at tea, but it was supposed that he was at the house of some friend. Late at night he was still absent and had not been seen. His room door was tried and found to be locked. The key could be seen on the inside. A ladder was procured and an entrance to the room made through a window, when the body was found lying cold upon the floor. It was half-dressed, indicating that Mr. Wilson was preparing to go out when the attack came upon him. Physicians were summoned, and these agreed that life had at that time been extinct for six hours.

Tuesday Coroner Alexander summoned a jury and proceeded to hold an inquest. Drs. J. P. McCombs, J. H. McAden and J. B. Jones were examined, who after making a post mortem examination of the body, signed a paper setting forth that "death was caused by a rupture of some of the blood vessels of the brain, thus producing apoplexy." This also was the verdict of the jury.

The funeral services took place Wednesday morning at the First Presbyterian church, of which he was a most consistent and devoted member. The services were largely attended, and the sermon of the pastor was one of his most eloquent efforts, uniting with a beautiful tribute to the dead an urgent reminder to the living to be prepared at any time.

The Haywood-Bagley Marriage.

Early on yesterday morning Christ Church was the scene of a very beautiful ceremony. A select gathering of the ladies and gentlemen of this city could have been seen within the walls of that handsome structure a little after 7 o'clock, and the frequent turning of the eyes toward the western portal was indicative of some expected arrival that was to be the coming feature of the occasion. Accordingly at 7½ o'clock expectancy was realized. It was a bridal party—the bride and groom being Miss Minnie Haywood and Mr. Leroy G. Bagley. It was a happy looking couple, and they marched forward to the bridal altar with a firm step as if thus they would tread through life together. The bridal train was composed of the following ladies and gentlemen, representing the grace and beauty of this city:

Miss Bettie Burke Haywood and C. McKimmon; Miss Maggie P. Fowle and A. W. Haywood; Miss Lavine G. Haywood and Geo. M. Smedes; Miss Eliza McKee and Phil. H. Andrews; Miss Hennie Kramer and W. T. McGhee; Miss Grizzie Bagley and Dr. D. E. Everitt; Miss Del. H. Bryan and P. F. Pescud, Jr.

The bridal party formed around the Rev. Dr. Marshall and presented a very elegant spectacle. The ceremony was performed in the Rector's usually graceful manner, when the train retraced its steps to the carriages in waiting, and the party was speedily whirled to the Raleigh & Gaston depot just in time for the bride and groom to take their departure on an extended Northern tour.

A tear, a smile, a kiss, a squeeze of the hand, "write as soon as you get to Weldon," "make haste and come back," "hope you'll have a splendid time," and others, occurred, even up to the time the cars moved off.

Improvements Going on at the R. & G. R. R.

A reporter of the NEWS in passing by the offices of the Raleigh & Gaston R. R., noticed a new building in course of construction on Halifax street, south of the main building. And upon inquiry, he was informed that the new warehouse erected a year or two ago was not as spacious as the demands of the road required, and the warehouse is now being extended from Salisbury to Halifax street, which will soon be completed, and when finished a handsome office will be fitted up in the east end, fronting on Halifax street, for the efficient agent, Mr. C. A. Allen.

Stepping into the machine shops, the reporter was shown a very large new lathe, larger than any ever used in the shops before, a very valuable and very costly tool; also a handsome hydraulic wheel press and a boring machine. These were added at very considerable cost, but will facilitate the work to a great extent.

A new fire-proof oil room, built of solid brick masonry, with iron doors, has just been completed, and a large, commodious fire-proof brick and iron storehouse is in course of construction.

The new locomotive No. 6, a duplicate of No 3 purchased some months ago, made by the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia has just arrived. These locomotives are said to of be one-third greater hauling capacity than any ever before used in this section of the State.

The R. & A. A. L. R. R. is under the same management with the R. & G., and on the former road two new warehouses are in course of construction. One at Osgood, Chatham, and the other at Blue's Crossing in Moore county.

These improvements are evidences that both these roads are in a prosperous condition and reflects great credit upon the efficient administration of its present management, whose plans are executed by and the roads operated under the immediate supervision of the very able and accomplished Superintendent, Maj. J. C. Winder.

Ocean View Hotel, James H. Pool, Proprietor, Beaufort, N. C.

This house is now open for the reception of summer visitors. A good bar, bathing houses, etc., are attached to the house. Sailing boats in attendance for the accomodation of guests. A steamer will also land passengers at the hotel wharf, and take excursion parties to any point on the harbor. The table will be supplied with the best the market and water afford. Terms of board $1.50 per day, $10 per week; $30 per month. We will not "blow our own horn;" but will be pleased to have others do so for us. Goldsboro Mail, Messenger, Winston Journals, Tarboro Southerner and Durham Plant copy one month.

The New Stock Speculation.

The new combination method of operating in stocks which Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have inaugurated, is attracting much attention in financial circles, by reason of its remarkable success. A customer in Providence, invested nine times, and made over $5,000 in three months, by using from $50 to $500 capital. By this system, orders from thousands of customers, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and operated as a mighty whole, thus giving to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and shrewdest skill. Profits are divided every thirty days. Any amount from $10 to $75,000 can be used in Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s combinations with equal proportionate success. $15 will make $75 profit in the month. $200 will return $1,600, or 8 per cent. on the stock, and so as the market varies. The new circular gives "two unerring rules for success," and shows how any one can operate profitably. Mailed free. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Unheard of Bargains!

Who tries his best to please his friends
And in his labors never ends,
Bargains he'll give you when you call
For No. 10 is all and all.
Of other houses you hear them talk;
In Fayetteville street just take a walk
And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades,
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adorn your forms and faces:
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine,
Will make your rooms and parlor shine.
Perforated mottoes, and white holly baskets.
And every other sort of stuff,
Of which he hopes to have enough.
So now he bids you all adieu
And wishes a happy new year too,
And not forget

The Celebrated Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache, it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetes;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with a considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

JNO. F. MAYNE.
Columbia, S. C., Jan. 23d, 1879.

Rev. J. D. Parker, of New Orleans, La., writes: "Having tried effectually the 'Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass,' for Diarhea, Kidney afflictions, &c., I take pleasure in recommending its use in these complaints. In my case it affords immediate relief.

J. D. PARKER."

CONVICTS TO HIRE!

Under the general law for farming out convicts, I am authorized by the Board of Directors of this Institution, to hire, or farm out to individuals, or to private, or public corporations, all surplus convicts that may accumulate at the penitentiary. And here I would state that we can offer very special inducements to any persons wishing to hire convict labor, to prosecute any enterprise, inside of the prison enclosure.

Any person wishing to hire convicts, to be worked either inside or outside of the prison will please make application at once.
